Notes

- All accents are typed after the base character: e̲ is typed e then Left-bracket [.
- To type the low-tone accent ̀ use the Slash key / — à is typed a then Slash /
- To type the nasal accent ̲ use the Left-bracket [ — a̱ is typed a then Left-bracket [
- To type the low-tone nasal accent ̲̀ use the Right-bracket ] — à̲ is typed a then Right-bracket ]
- You can type the original English punctuation marks by holding down the Right-Alt or Option key. The Slash / is typed Right-Alt+Slash (Windows) Option+Slash (Mac).
- Opening and closing quotes. For Mac users, Right-Alt is either of the Option Keys.
  - single: ‘ Shift-Backquote — ’ Apostrophe
  - double: “ Shift+Left-Bracket — ” Shift+Right-Bracket
  - single « Right-Alt+Shift+9 — » Right-Alt+Shift+0
  - double « Right-Alt+9 — » Right-Alt+0
Tsek’ene-Kwadacha (Sekani) Keyboard

Notes

- All accents are typed after the base character: ę is typed e then Left-bracket [
- To type the low-tone accent ’ use the Slash key / — à is typed a then Slash /
- To type the nasal accent ̨ use the Left-bracket [ — à is typed a then Left-bracket [
- To type the low-tone nasal accent ̨’ use the Right-bracket ] — à is typed a then Right-bracket [
- You can type the original English punctuation marks by holding down the Right-Alt or Option key. The Slash / is typed Right-Alt+Slash (Windows) Option+Slash (Mac).
- Opening and closing quotes. For Mac users, Right-Alt is either of the Option Keys.
  - single: ‘ Shift-Backquote — ’ Apostrophe
  - double: “ Shift+Left-Bracket — ” Shift+Right-Bracket
  - single ‹ Right-Alt+Shift+9 — › Right-Alt+Shift+0
  - double « Right-Alt+9 — » Right-Alt+0